Pattonville Alumni Association crowns first-ever “Pattonville Idol” after three rounds of contests

Kelley Chestnut, a first-grade teacher at Parkwood Elementary School, was named the first “Pattonville Idol” in a competition sponsored by the Pattonville Alumni Association. Chestnut made it through three rounds of competition against 15 competitors and took the top prize recently in front of a standing-room-only audience.

Taking second place in the Pattonville Idol competition was Jill Gould, a 2002 graduate of Pattonville High School. Third place went to Steve Berardino of the Class of 1977. Winners were chosen by audience vote.

The Pattonville Alumni Association hosted Pattonville Idol as a way to raise funds for its scholarship program. The contest was open to any Pattonville alumni or staff and their immediate family members. For more information on the Alumni Association or next year’s contest, contact President Paula Schneider at 3879 DePaul Meadows Court, Bridgeton, MO 63044, or e-mail her at jlsipaula@aol.com.
