

Pattonville honors Business Partners of Year

The Pattonville School District recently honored an individual and a community group as its 2008 School Business Partners of the Year during its annual District Appreciation Night.

Patty Gould, Pattonville director of school-business partnerships, presented the partnership awards to Mike LeBlanc of Nationwide Insurance and the Pattonville Fire District. LeBlanc has been active in programs related to career education and on school advisory committees. The fire district assists Pattonville in training staff and students on lifesaving CPR (including all high school freshmen) at no charge to Pattonville and is always willing to send firefighters to participate in school programs.
