

Pattonville teacher a finalist for state award

Jackie McDuffie, a sixth-grade teacher at Remington Traditional School in the Pattonville School District, was nominated for the Missouri Middle School Association's Middle Level Educator of the Year. She was also chosen as one of the top three finalists.

All nominees will attend a professional development conference in March and the winner of the award will then be announced.