

Pattonville teacher named Missouri Middle School Teacher of the Year

A sixth-grade teacher at a K-8 school in the Pattonville School District was recently named the Missouri Middle School Teacher of the Year. Jacquelyn McDuffie, who teaches at Remington Traditional School, was presented the award during the Missouri Middle School Association conference, held in March in Osage Beach. McDuffie was honored with flowers and recognition by her school after returning from the conference. She has been teaching in Pattonville for 16 years.
